

EnvisionTEC Signs Abergower as a Global Reseller Partner

GLADBECK, Germany, Nov. 07, 2017 — EnvisionTEC GmbH today announced the signing of its latest reseller partner, business services provider Abergower.

Abergower Ltd the award winning international service delivery company, already provides consulting, training, engineering and education services around 3D printing. Abergower will be able to sell the entire range of EnvisionTEC printers from their operational sites in London, Glasgow and Sydney Australia.

“We have watched with interest the rise of 3D printing and we are one of the first consultancies to embrace the technology to advise our clients. Becoming a reseller for EnvisionTEC allows us to provide, not only exceptional printers to our clients but also a huge range of industry focused materials.” said Abergower Managing Director, Robin Prior. “We are looking forward to working with EnvisionTEC to improve our knowledge and provide our clients with arguably the best professional grade 3D printing solutions.”

This combined with the APUC 1009 AP enables the company to offer a range of world class 3D printers, 3D scanners and associated equipment to all universities, colleges FE institutions and a host of affiliated organisations throughout the UK.

“Our agreement with Abergower provides EnvisionTEC with, not just another consultancy but one that is passionate about the future of 3D printing,” said Ben Johnson, EnvisionTEC’s regional sales manager for UK and Ireland. “Covering a number of industries where 3D printing is impacting greatly, we look forward to supporting Abergower in providing the best 3D printers and materials to its clients.”

About EnvisionTEC
